MACE, MPR

SHORT BIO

Candie A. Price, a native of Philadelphia, PA, provides public relations and marketing coaching to Christian authors, entrepreneurs, ministries and businesses which includes integrated marketing communications, such as social media strategy, media relations, extensive blog, web and social media exploration, and/or training. Additionally, she handles the public relations and social media for the Historic Sixteenth Street Baptist Church of Birmingham, AL.

She is the author of First Lady: The Real Truth, an encouraging and inspirational book for pastor's wives, minister's wives and laypeople that want to better understand this ambiguous role in today's church, He Restoreth My Soul, the first in a devotional series, and SoulFusion, a book of affirmations. Candie is currently working on several new book projects because inspiring, encouraging, and empowering others through the written word is her passion!

Candie is a speaker in the Christian women's niche market, speaking locally and nationally at women's retreats, conferences and workshops. Additionally, she is the Young Adult Ministry and Women's Ministry Director for her church.

For over 8 years, Candie was the Founder/Editor-in-Chief of WOW! \(Women of the Word\) Magazine, a national print and digital magazine for Christian women. In that capacity, Candie managed 25 writers and was solely responsible for the magazine branding, website and social media content. She served as the executive in charge of vendors, marketing and advertising and securing thousands of unique daily visitors, resulting in a readership in 23 countries. Among her most notable one-on-one interviews are Actress/Director Kim Fields, BernNadette Stanis of television's Good Times, Judge Mablean Ephraim, formerly of Divorce Court, and Sherri Shepherd, formerly of The View.
